

AngeionConsulting offers Certificate Programs to advance employees into an area of knowledge far beyond normal textbook classes. Certificate Programs are designed for advanced and entry-level managers to elicit immediate cognitive understanding and implementation into any industry and workplace.

CERTIFICATEprograms

Leadership Certificate Program

10 hours (recommended 2-hour increments per session)

The power of honest and real leadership encourages a team of employees to increase their production and motivation to match or exceed the expectations of their leaders. Leadership credibility stands at the forefront of gaining and garnering the respect of a manager's employee team. Learning to lead with confidence and understanding employee motives can maneuver a manager into the position he or she needs for success.

Angeion Consulting offers leadership certificate programs that cover a range of topics to allow managers to meet or exceed their own expectations. Whether advancing an employee into a leadership position or empowering existing managers, Angeion Consulting can teach managers directly at your place of business using simulated situations that are developed specifically for your business culture. We encourage first time managers to take the preparatory manager certificate program first to ensure an effective foundation first before learning additional leadership information.

Leadership certificate programs can be given one-on-one or in a group setting based on the needs of your company. One-on-one leadership certificate programs include managerial observation and are encouraged to also include manager training courses to ensure maximum success with the program.

Preparatory Manager Certificate Program

10 hours (recommended 2-hour increments per session)

Whether promoting existing employees or hiring new managers, a company relies on these individuals for the success of the company's culture, productivity, morale, and teamwork. The preparatory manager certificate program trains new managers in a variety of topics to help them meet and exceed your company's expectations. Working with your human resource department or at your place of business, this certificate program ensures your managers receive the appropriate training according to your business requirements, industry, culture, and leadership expectations.

This certificate program is also offered to entry level managers looking to add additional accreditations to their resume and is taught one-on-one or in a classroom style setting. This certificate program focuses on teaching leadership skills and expectations of managers in a variety of industries. From office to store to field management, the preparatory manager certificate program will approach all areas of company demand allowing managers to exceed company requirements. Effective and defined leadership expertise will be addressed through real-life scenarios.

AngieBrown

Owner

Phone 916.698.7887
Fax 916.209.3660
Email angie.brown@angeionconsulting.com
Website www.angeionconsulting.com